NB 1171

Nov. 25, 2002

EDITOR'S NOTE: On Tuesday, Dec. 3, the New Brunswick Human Rights Commission will hold a public consultation in Moncton on the commission's programs, services and legislation. The meeting will start at 7 p.m. in Meeting Room D of the Moncton Public Library at 644 Main Street.

This is an opportunity for stakeholders, businesses and the general public to tell commission members present what changes they would like to see in the commission's strategic direction and in the New Brunswick Human Rights Act.

This meeting is part of a series of consultations that will be held in various parts of the province. To facilitate the consultation process, the commission has prepared a short discussion paper entitled "Thirty-Five Years and Looking Forward!", which is available online at: http://www.gnb.ca/hrc-cdp/e/consul1e.htm. A summary of the Ferris Report on human rights reform in New Brunswick has also been published at the same site.

Printed copies of both documents are available free at the commission's Moncton office on the fourth floor of Assumption Place. Copies may also be requested by phone, 506-856-2422.
